1. General Principle

Good behaviour and discipline is essential if the general aims of the school are to be achieved and effective teaching and learning is to take place. Also good behaviour and discipline will help ensure that:

- there is a safe, welcoming, caring and happy working environment which is to enable all children to achieve their full potential.
- children respect themselves, others and their surroundings.
- children are happy and socially integrated individuals.
- there are good relationships between pupils and also pupils and staff.
- good relationships developed with the community.
- children realise the importance of self discipline.
- children have an understanding of honesty, fairness and politeness.

The aim of this statement, in conjunction with the TEAM Education Trust Behaviour Policy, is to assist the school to have high standards of behaviour at all times. If this is to be achieved this policy needs to:

- involve pupils, parents, staff and governors.
- be clear, simple and easily understood.
- be consistent in behavioural expectations.
- have an emphasis on positive behaviour.
- have a balance of sanctions and rewards.
- encourage the majority of children to conform to the school's Gold Standard expectations
- be consistently applied.
- help the school manage pupil's behaviour effectively.
- encourage a whole school approach to behaviour and discipline.

Remember it is up to you.

You choose how you behave.

Make sure you make the right choices.

2. The Role of the Governing Body

The governing body has responsibility for agreeing and establishing the principles of the school's behaviour statement and implementing the TEAM Education Trust Behaviour Policy. They also have a duty to ensure that the school follows the TEAM Education Trust policy and this Statement to promote good behaviour and discipline amongst pupils. Governing bodies should consult with and support staff to maintain high standards of behaviour and discipline.

3. The Role of the Principal

The Principal is responsible for securing discipline on a day-to-day basis and for developing school rules and codes of conduct aimed at; promoting self discipline, having a regard for authority, encouraging good behaviour and respect for others. The Principal has to inform parents, staff and pupils of the discipline policy and bring it to their attention at least once a year. It is also the Principal's responsibility to:

- Determine, through consultation, what is acceptable behaviour,.
- Ensure that standards are consistently and fairly applied.
- Regulate pupils' conduct.
- Ensure that pupils conduct is acceptable.

4. The Role of Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff

All staff have responsibility for consistently implementing the behaviour policy and this statement, supporting the Gold Standard expectations and carrying out agreed procedures. If this is achieved then pupils are more likely to make informed decisions about the ways they behave and do so in a positive way. However disruptive behaviour will sometimes occur, when it does staff will need to make their own judgements and be able to distinguish between serious and minor offences. They should also know the range of options available to them, which should be carried out fairly and consistently.

5. The Role of Parents/Carers

Parental co-operation and support is vital if the school is to be successful in promoting good behaviour. Parents/carers need to be aware of the behaviour policy and statement including the Gold Standard and know when they will be directly involved, so that they take part and agree any plan of action. This includes incidents of good behaviour.

6. Special Education Needs

Although the aim is to have good behaviour throughout school there may be some pupils who require additional support. These children require Special Educational Needs provision. The school has a system in place to identify, assess and make effective provision for meeting the needs of pupils with behavioural difficulties. This is likely to involve outside agencies such as; Educational Psychologist, Educational Social Worker, Family Support Worker and Behavioural Support Services.

7. Rewards and Sanctions

The school has an emphasis on positive behaviour and encourages the use of praise and rewards without any loss of high expectations. However there needs to be a balance between rewards and sanctions. Appendix B deals with rewards and sanctions in greater detail.

8. Monitoring Behaviour

The monitoring of behaviour on a day to day basis is the prime responsibility of class teachers in consultation with other staff, teaching and non-teaching, and when necessary with the Special Needs Co-ordinator. The Principal and Vice Principal have responsibility for monitoring persistent bad behaviour and also serious incidents. Each teacher must record any classroom incidents on CPOMS, and these reports are monitored daily by the Senior Team. More detailed records of more serious incidents will be logged by the Principal and kept in his office. There may also be occasions when the behaviour of individual children needs to be monitored closely through use of report sheets. Such reports will involve class teachers, pupils, parents and the Principal or Vice Principal.

9. Bullying (See specific policy)

Bullying is defined as premeditated aggression which continues over time and generally forms a pattern of behaviour. At Model Village Primary School bullying will not be tolerated and all staff must act firmly against it.

Children experiencing bullying should be encouraged to report any incidents and the school should co-operate fully to ensure that all incidents are reported and acted upon. There are many ways in which reporting incidents can take place; it will be up to the individual pupil, in consultation with parents and staff, to choose a method for reporting bullying.

This policy is available to parents on the school website.

10. Appendix 1- School Gold Standard Expectations related to Behaviour

These are supported by Gold Standard expectations being displayed in each classroom and in communal areas around the school.

All staff should make reference to the Gold Standard expectations when giving rewards and sanctions, and discussing quality of behaviour.

Every class has a display of a sun, a white cloud and a thunder cloud. Every child begins each session (AM/PM) on the sun.

If a child misbehaves, they are asked which rule they have broken and given a polite reminder about their behaviour and expected to move their name/photo to the white cloud. If there is a second problem/example of undesirable behaviour, the child moves to the thunder cloud. On the third problem/example of undesirable behaviour, the child moves onto the Behaviour Escalation Pathway (Appendix 1)

11. Appendix 2 – Rewards and Sanctions

2.1 Rewards:

- If the school is to have an emphasis on positive behaviour then it is necessary to have an effective system of rewards.

2.2 What rewards do:

- Rewards encourage pupils to repeat behaviours because they have pleasant outcomes.
- Rewards contribute to pupils' self esteem which nurtures their emotional, social and academic development.
- Rewarding one pupil can encourage other pupils to copy behaviours which result in attention and praise.
- Rewards help to establish and nurture positive relationships between teachers and pupils. Positive relationships are central to effective behaviour management.
- Rewards help to make schools friendlier and happier places to work and learn.

2.3 Ways of Rewarding Pupils: Informal Rewards

These are rewards that are often 'low key' and can be used by anyone. As a general rule there should be more praise than reprimand e.g. catch children being good.

Examples of informal rewards

- Private or public word of appreciation.
- Private or public praise.
- Positive comments on pupil's work.
- Sharing a pupil's achievement with; the pupil, the class, other staff or the pupil's parents.
- Pupils to show examples of good work.
- Displaying good work.
- Marking work positively and constructively.
- Give pupils responsibilities.
- Use of 'stickers'.

2.4 Ways of Rewarding Pupils: Formal Rewards

These take some organisation and are designed to be used with either a class or the whole school. The following is a list of rewards to be used.

Weekly Gold Standard Certificates

Class teachers to nominate a pupil from their class for a gold Star of the Week certificate of merit. The Star of the Week Certificate of merit to be presented during Friday's assembly.

Attendance Award

Each week the class with the highest attendance is awarded a short treat e.g. additional time on trim trail.

ClassDojo Points

Children can earn ClassDojo points for a range of good behaviours, excellence in learning, good attitude and involvement in school life. ClassDojo points can be exchanged either for half-termly treat activities or 'banked' towards a voucher at the end of the year.

2.5 Sanctions

A sanction is a response designed to discourage inappropriate behaviour. However, for sanctions to be effective they must also:

- Protect the adult's relationship with the pupil.
- Protect the pupil's self esteem.

The Elton Report summarises the effective use of punishment as 'being firm rather than aggressive, targeting the right pupil, criticising the behaviour and not the person, using private rather than public reprimands, being fair and consistent and avoiding sarcasm and idle threats'. The report also points out:

'Teachers should avoid punishments which humiliate pupils, like public ridicule or sarcasm, since this makes good relationships between staff and pupils impossible'.

'Schools who put too much faith in punishments to deter bad behaviour are likely to be disappointed'.

Sanctions used carefully and sensitively can be a good way to stop inappropriate behaviour, but in the long term the over use of sanctions is more likely to actually make the behaviour worse. On their own, sanctions do not teach appropriate behaviour.

Serious breaches of behaviour include: (this list is not exhaustive)

- Persistent violation of school rules
- Discrimination
- Racism
- Physically abusing another person – adult or child
- Verbally abusing another person – adult or child
- Threatening behaviour
- Evidence of bullying

2.7 Escalation pathway:

This information is detailed in the Behaviour Escalation Pathway document (Appendix 1

Appendix 1

Model Village Behaviour Escalation Pathway

No individual child will compromise the education of the others.

	Behaviour (examples of some possible behaviours, this list is not exhaustive)	Consequence(s)
CLASSROOM LEVEL  Class Teacher to lead		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Use of whole school behaviour strategy in classrooms (weather system)</li> <li>• Everyone starts the session (AM/PM) on the sunshine</li> <li>• Partly cloudy – first warning. Tell the child exactly what is wrong with the behaviour and what they need to do to change it. “Lucy, we do not shout in class. If you have something you would like to say you need to put your hand up.”</li> <li>• Storm cloud – second warning. Again, outline the behaviour and what needs to change. Explain that further incidents will lead to an escalation. “Lucy, this is your second reminder not to shout out in class. If you have something to say, you should raise your hand. If you continue to shout in class, you will be asked to leave the room.”</li> </ul>

Above are the agreed Steps that will be used to guide discussion with parents and school staff in determining the support and sanctions that will be followed as a result of a child's continued inappropriate behaviour.

Please note that the steps do not have to be followed sequentially. If an incident is serious enough then the process could start at Step 3, 4 or even Step 5

Positive sanctions are used as a priority in all cases – please see the behaviour policy for guidance.
